180th Fighter Wing to Change Command

(Swanton, Ohio) – Col. Curtis W. Voltz will assume command of the 180th Fighter Wing from Col. Chad E. Holesko at 8:30 a.m., Sat., April 5, 2025 at the 180th Fighter Wing, Ohio National Guard.

Brig. Gen. Francisco Dominguez, Deputy Assistant Adjutant General for Air, Ohio National Guard, will preside over the ceremony.

Col. Voltz's career spans 29 years as both an enlisted Airman and a commissioned officer. He enlisted into the 180th Fighter Wing in 1996 as a Weapons Load Technician, before earning his commission in 2005 as an F-16 Fighting Falcon pilot, assigned to the 112th Fighter Squadron. Col. Voltz has served the wing in various positions throughout his career including Instructor Pilot, Chief of Weapons and Tactics, Director of Operations, Operations Support Squadron Commander, Maintenance Group Commander and Operations Group Commander, before serving in his current role as the wing's Deputy Commander.

NOTE: Media outlets are invited to attend this event. Those interested in attending must RSVP to the 180FW Public Affairs office, at 419-868-4072, by Thurs., April 3, to receive event details and reporting instructions.
