

Spc. Erin Conners

Company E, 237th Support Battalion ~ Springfield

Conners grew up and still resides in Hamilton County. She joined the Ohio National Guard “to follow in my brother’s footsteps of serving in the Army, to gain more knowledge and experience, and for all the great benefits. I am fortunate to be able to serve my country and will forever be thankful for everything the Guard has given me.” She is a mother of two boys, a home health care provider and a bartender. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Conners is providing food packaging and distribution support to the Second Harvest Food Bank of Clark, Champaign and Logan Counties in Springfield, Ohio. Conners said the most rewarding part of supporting the food bank mission is “knowing how many people we help to feed their families on a daily basis. ... to be able to serve our community in a time of need, I feel very special to be able to be a part of that.”

Ohioans serving Ohioans

Ohio National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are members of your community. They are local students, teachers, law enforcement, retail workers, business owners, your co-workers, family, friends and neighbors. When the Ohio National Guard responds to an emergency or natural disaster, it's Ohioans serving Ohioans right in their own communities. In this series, meet some of the front-line heroes serving during the current COVID-19 relief efforts, as well as a few of our members who've supported past humanitarian missions.
