

Pfc. Noah Pelton

Battery C, 1st Battalion, 134th Field Artillery Regiment ~ Marysville

Pelton grew up in Wood County in Northwest Ohio, and joined the Ohio National Guard like many others. “I joined for the education benefits and wanted to continue our family tradition (of serving in the military).” Pelton is presently studying full time as an environmental science major at Bowling Green State University. As a member of Task Force Redleg, Pelton is providing food packaging and distribution support to the Mid-Ohio Foodbank. Pelton appreciates the fact that even though many people are stuck at home, he is “fortunate to do something positive during this pandemic by helping to feed the local community.”

Ohioans serving Ohioans

Ohio National Guard Soldiers and Airmen are members of your community. They are local students, teachers, law enforcement, retail workers, business owners, your co-workers, family, friends and neighbors. When the Ohio National Guard responds to an emergency or natural disaster, it's Ohioans serving Ohioans right in their own communities. In this series, meet some of the front-line heroes serving during the current COVID-19 relief efforts, as well as a few of our members who've supported past humanitarian missions.
